Senator Says He Received Aid From Estes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., acknowledged today the receipt of $1,000 in contributions from Billie Sol Estes toward payment for his weekly radio broadcast to Texas constituents.

Yarborough, in a statement, said there were no strings to these contributions, which he said were received at a time Estes "was being feted by chambers of commerce as the ideal young American."

"I knew him as a devout lay church worker and a devoted family man," Yarborough added. "As far as I knew until late March, he was a responsible businessman."

In advance of Yarborough's statement, the Dallas News had reported that Estes' journal of expenditures listed a $1,000 payment to Yarborough on May 23, 1961. The newspaper said there were additional monthly payments up to $300.

In commenting on the News story, Yarborough had said he would produce proof he did not receive the $1,000, but would withhold further comment until he had checked versions of the story against his own records.

Estes is now under indictment in Texas on fraud charges in connection with the financing of storage tanks for his fertilizer business, and there is a spreading inquiry in Washington into his relations with government agencies, in connection with farm programs.

Yarborough's statement on his radio programs came as Senate investigators tried to fit together the pieces of the puzzle and Republicans rifeled new charges and called for Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to resign.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee that is exploring the complicated ventures of the indicted Texas financier, said he would meet with two subcommittee investigators who questioned Estes in Texas. They apparently got little from him, McClellan said.

Governor Gets to See Arkie

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkie, a 19½ inch bullfrog who will represent Arkansas in the World Jumping Frog Contest at Angels Camp, Calif. May 17-20, was introduced to Gov. Orval E. Faubus today.

The frog was chaperoned by Lee King, 10, of Lonoke who caught him in a pond on his parents' farm.

The state Publicity and Parks Commission shipped the frog to California by Air Express today. Clovis Copeland, of the commission, said Jean Ray of Conway, a student at Pepperdine College in California, had been selected to "jockey" the frog in the contest.

The jumping frog contest is a feature of the Calaveras County Fair. The contest was popularized by Mark Twain's story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

Tito Critic in Prison in Belgrade

By BORIS BOSKOVIC

BELGRADE (AP) — Milovan Djilas, critic of Communism who was once President Tito's heir apparent, was back in prison today under sentence of eight years and eight months for disclosing state secrets and violating parole.

A three-judge tribunal convicted the former vice president at a closed one-day trial Monday.

Djilas, 51, was sentenced to four years for divulging state secrets in his new book "Conversations with Stalin," which is to be published in the United States later this month.

The court added three years and eight months to cover the unexpired part of a nine-year term from which Djilas was paroled last year.

Presiding Judge Miodrag Stevovic said Djilas had disclosed confidential information and added his own impressions "to give reactionary circles a tool to pour oil to the fire of the cold war."

The judge said information that could harm Yugoslavia was contained in the manuscript Djilas turned over last year to the New York firm of Harcourt, Brace & World Publishing Inc.

Stevovic said Djilas obtained the information during 1944-48 as a representative of the Yugoslav government in official talks and confidential exchanges. He said Djilas did not offer his book to any Yugoslav publisher or inform authorities, as he was obliged to do under terms of his parole.

Djilas was sent to jail twice before for writings criticizing communism. While in prison in 1957, he was tried for spiriting out a book, "The New Class," which was published abroad. It dealt with the thesis that communism creates a privileged class.

Indonesian Troops Drop in Dutch Guinea

By HAL MCCLURE

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP) — Four Indonesian transport planes supported by two Mitchell bombers dropped 40 or more paratroops and supplies into West New Guinea at dawn today to reinforce encircled Indonesian guerrillas, the Dutch reported.

A communique said the bombers were driven off — apparently by naval guns — but that two C47 transport planes succeeded in dropping at least 40 paratroops into the jungle south of the village of Fakfak, in westernmost New Guinea.

The two other transports dropped supplies to about 50 Indonesians who had parachuted into New Guinea April 27 and now are bottled up by Dutch soldiers, marines and Papuan volunteers about 16 miles north of Fakfak, the communique said.

It was believed the paratroops came from Indonesian-held Ceran Island, about 120 miles southwest of New Guinea.

Dutch forces sealed off the area, halting all plane flights and refusing correspondents entry.

The Dutch said the paratroops were dropped east of Fakfak while the supplies were unloaded north of the village in the general vicinity where the first contingent was dropped April 27.

A spokesman said none of the four was shot down. There was no report of contact on the ground between Dutch forces and the invaders.

In Jakarta, Indonesia's army chief of staff, Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, declared today that armed Indonesian "volunteers" have been dropped in several parts of West New Guinea and that infiltration of the Dutch-held territory by Indonesian "youth" would not be stopped.

"We can take West Irian (West New Guinea) at any moment," he declared. "The Indonesian armed forces are prepared at any moment to render assistance to our youth by air and sea."

Official of CAMPA to Testify

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The secretary-manager of the Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association attempted Monday to explain why CAMPA allowed certain milk processors a lower price than others.

David L. Parr testified in a Federal Trade Commission hearing that CAMPA allowed the Dean Milk Co., of Conway and the Borden Company of Little Rock a price differential of from 21 to 28 cent per 100 gallons on milk processed for sale in the Memphis area.

Parr told hearing examiner Herman Tocker of Washington that CAMPA was forced to charge the lower prices because the two companies had threatened to buy milk from out-of-state cooperatives.

CAMPA and Parr have been charged by the FTC with conspiring to restrain trade and with selling milk to certain processors at discriminatory prices.

Parr testified that the lower prices on the milk sold in Memphis were allowed Dean's and Borden's because both dairies told him they could buy milk cheaper from the Pure Milk Association of Chicago or the Producers Creamery of Springfield, Mo.

The Little Rock price, Parr said was above the prices set by the federal government for the Memphis area.

Billy Reed, a distributor in the Pine Bluff area for Sealtest Dairy of Memphis, also was a witness Monday as the hearing entered its eighth week.

Parr is expected to take the stand again when testimony resumes Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin scheduled a meeting with top State Department officials today, evidently on the Laos crisis.

The State Departments fixed the time of the session at 2:45 p. m., EDT.

The meeting was set up primarily between Dobrynin and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the department's latest reports "indicate there is no fighting in Laos."

The United States has been pressing the Soviet government to restore the Laotian cease-fire, which was broken by pro-Communist forces almost two weeks ago.

SAO Steps Up Killings in Algiers

By RODNEY ANGOVE

ALGERS (AP) — Secret army terrorists launched a new wave of death and destruction today, killing at least 35 persons and wounding 13, mostly Moslems.

The government replied by clapping a 6 p. m. curfew on Algiers. Europeans and Moslems alike hurried to get home and by late afternoon the streets were deserted.

The wave of new machine-gun, rifle and bomb attacks from the secret army terrorists appeared to be in retaliation to Monday night's killings by Moslem commandos. There were 47 attacks in Algiers alone.

Authorities in both Algiers and Oran seemed powerless to choke off the terrorism.

The Moslem outburst Monday was seen as a warning of worse to come unless the European terrorists are checked. The secret army replied with more shooting.

Police said 2 persons were killed and 88 wounded by commandos of the Moslem National Liberation Front who drove at high speed through Algiers with machine guns blazing. Twenty of the dead and 79 of the wounded were Europeans.

The secret army's terrorist toll Monday was 10 Moslems, three of them women.

Co-op Asks for PSC Correction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The First Electric Co-operative, Inc., asked the Public Service Commission Monday to correct an oversight which occurred after the co-op purchased facilities of the City of Benton's power company on Dec. 26, 1956.

The co-op said it had learned the territory it purchased never had been reassigned by the commission and it asked that the territory be reallocated now. PSC approval is expected.

State May Take Part in World's Fair

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Wythe Walker, a Little Rock real estate developer, was elected Monday as chairman of a commission to investigate the feasibility of Arkansas' participation in the New York World's Fair of 1964-65.

Walker said the Arkansas World's Fair Commission will conduct a survey to determine the extent of business and civic interest in having a state exhibit at the fair.

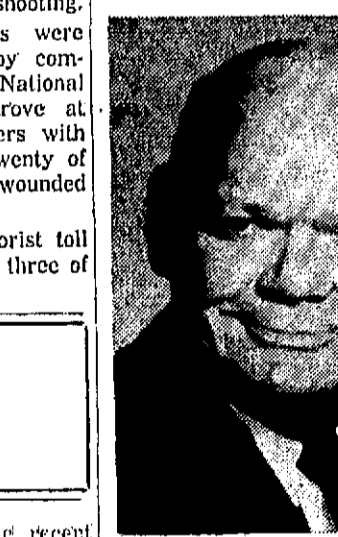

The commission is to recommend to the 1963 legislature whether the state should take part in the fair. Arkansas does not have an exhibit in the World's Fair now in progress at Seattle, Wash.

Financing for the exhibit is expected to come from the state and the business community if the legislature approves Arkansas' participation. Rentals and exhibit sales would provide funds for maintenance.

Rockefeller has suggested that the state build a restaurant at the site. He said he thought such a venture would produce enough money to fully finance the cost of the exhibit, which has been estimated at $1.5 million.

Both the AIDC and the state Publicity and Parks Commission favor a state exhibit.

President Says Action Is Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today ordered 1,800 U.S. Marines into Thailand.

The chief executive announced his action in a statement which said that:

"These forces are to help insure the territorial integrity of this peaceful country." The statement mentioned only the dispatch of "additional elements of the U.S. military forces, both ground and air."

An administration official said the additional elements consisted of 1,800 Marines who will be landed at the Bangkok Naval Base at 10 a. m. Washington time (9 a. m., EST) Wednesday.

He said they are being moved in by units of the 7th fleet. They will supplement an Army battalion of 1,000 men already in Thailand for Southeast Asia Treaty Organization maneuvers.

Kennedy said the sending of additional U.S. forces to Thailand was considered desirable "because of recent attacks in Laos by Communist forces, and the subsequent movement of Communist military units toward the border of Thailand."

The President called a threat to Thailand a matter of grave concern to this country. But he said he wished to emphasize that the dispatch of U.S. forces to the southeast Asian nation is "a defensive act on the part of the United States" and completely consistent with provisions of the United Nations charter which recognizes that nations have an inherent right to take collective measures for self defense.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported to have told congressional leaders today that a force of U.S. Marines will begin landing in Thailand within a matter of hours.

The President was understood to have told the bipartisan group in a 45-minute meeting that the primary purpose is to help defend Thailand against the threat from neighboring Laos.

Informants said Kennedy stressed that his primary policy still is to get a peaceful settlement in Laos itself.

The main thrust of his diplomacy at the moment, officials said, is to get the cease-fire restored in that Southeast Asian nation and revive negotiations for a coalition government.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said after the White House conference that the situation in Southeast Asia is "certainly very difficult."

As to the nature of the discussion with the President, he would only say "There were no commitments asked and none given."

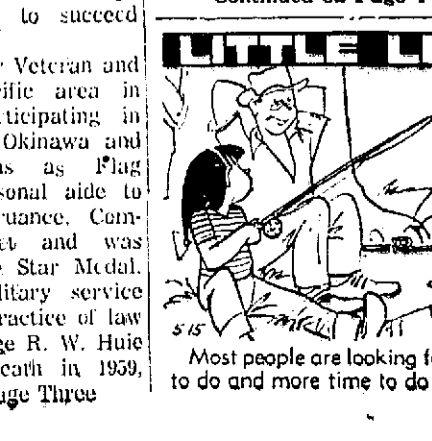

The U.S. and Thai governments, it was learned, have fully agreed on the landing of a Marine combat detachment from the force of about 2,000 men aboard an aircraft carrier task force off the Thai coast.

The task force was believed to be operating well up in the Gulf of Siam.

Informants said an announcement of the operation was expected here late today. The Marines are being added to an Army battalion of 1,000 men already in Thailand as a result of recent Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military maneuvers.

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy met with congressional chiefs from both parties for 45 minutes today in a special conference on the Laos crisis.

Broyles Has Praise and Criticism

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An optimistic Frank Broyles had praise for his football Razorbacks Monday night, but criticism for some Southwest Conference schools.

Broyles, fresh from viewing films of Saturday's final Red-White game here, said he expects the Razorbacks to be rated second or third in the conference this fall.

But, he said, "We should be grouped on a par with about five others behind Texas, which is in a class by itself."

Broyles criticized what he called efforts by some conference schools seeking legislation aimed at reducing the members' football programs.

"If anything, we should emphasize football more," Broyles told a Razorback Club meeting.

He did not divulge which schools were trying to de-emphasize the sport, but said they were "the ones in the red."

Broyles proposed setting up an 11-game season, with the eleventh game paying for minor sports.

"The eleventh game" would pay for golf, tennis and track some people say they can't afford because of excessive football costs," the Arkansas head football coach said.

Using his own school as an example, Broyles noted that for some years Arkansas had been down in football and the program was constantly in the red financially.

"Not once did Arkansas ask others to cut back to its level. The Southwest Conference said, 'You build up to our strength,'" he added.

Broyles said Georgia Tech Coach Bobby Dodd and others had suggested that an 11-game season, one above that allowed by the NCAA, could be scheduled without extending the season.

"Our season starts the third week in September and extends for 13 weeks into the second Saturday of December... because of the television schedule," Broyles told the boosters.

Broyles had particular praise for freshman quarterback Garland Ridenour of Fort Smith. He said he was so impressed by Ridenour's performance in Saturday's Red-White game he may be moved to tailback this fall.

"We've got more players who do their talking with their helmets than we've ever had before," Broyles said.

Kenny Dean, a fullback out of Gillett who was red-shirted last year, was called "the most improved runner we had and he'll play a lot of football this fall."

Injuries were the disappointment of the spring workouts, Broyles said.

He cited quarterback Freddy Marshall's knee injury and a pulled muscle suffered by Ken Hatfield of Helena.

Marshall's injury, Broyles said, may slow the offense down a little this September.

Broyles mentioned the new three-team system he plans to employ this fall as enabling at least 10 freshmen and 16 T-learners to be ready for conference ball.

notice of sale.

We are attaching hereto a cashier's check payable to the School District in the amount of $3,000 to be kept as full liquidated damages if we are awarded the bonds and fail to complete the purchase. When we pay you for the bonds, the check is to be returned to us.

These bonds are to be delivered to us on or before 45 days from the date of sale and thereafter at our option.

Respectfully submitted,

Accepted this day of 1962.

Rusians Are Besting U. S. Cage Players

NEW YORK (AP)—Towering Russians traveling through the country, whipping American basketball teams, while this nation's best players are sitting on the sidelines.

"That's the picture that is shaping up today, as the battle for control of amateur sports in the country daily grows more bitter."

"The Russians could well be the ones that crack it wide open. They are due in November for a series of games in this country. Instead of playing the country's top college teams, they are likely to face some rag-tag pickup clubs."

The resulting furor could extend clear to the White House. It will affect U.S. chances in the 194 Olympics, and the outcome of the fight will shape U.S. athletic policies for many years to come.

The Amateur Athletic Union, which is handling the Russian tour, said it had asked the colleges to let their top teams play the Russians, during the November tour, but had been refused. Col. Don Hull, the AAU's executive director said November was an awkward month, but that the time was selected by the Russians, through the State Department, and there was nothing he could do about it.

Walter Byers, for the NCAA, pointed out that college rules forbid teams playing before Dec. 1. "I can not accept placing the blame for the timing of the Russian trip on the State Department. It is another example of poor management of the AAU," Byers said.

"It would take a convention to change our rules to let our teams play in November, and the AAU didn't ask us in time for the convention."

Both sides agreed there was a possibility that individual collegians might be able to play on an all-star-type team against the Russians, but each appeared to be waiting for the other side to make the first move.

Palmer Hot, Easily Takes Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer finished with a typical birdie barrage to beat Johnny Pott for the championship of the $40,000 Colonial National Invitational. Then he announced a conscientious attack on the all-time, money-winning record for one year in professional golf.

Nerveless Arnie took a giant stride in that direction Monday when he trimmed Pott by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff to drag down the $7,000 first money.

Leading by a single stroke after nine holes, the cool-headed Pennsylvanian methodically birdied three of the next seven holes to win in a breeze.

He had a one under par 37-32-9 while Pott, playing out of Gulf Hills, Miss., came in with 38-35-73. Pott earned $3,500.

The victory, third straight and sixth of the year for Palmer, boosted his official earnings to $69,308. It left him less than $16,000 behind the one-year record of $75,268, set by himself in 1960.

"I will play more now than I previously expected since I have a good chance to break the record," he said.

Palmer, winning his eighth of 11 playoffs, said he plans to rest a little, practice a little for the National Open, play a few exhibitions and rejoin the tour at the Memphis Open in three weeks.

Carlton Signs With Redlegs

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Jerry Carlton, a two-sport letterman at the University of Arkansas, signed a professional baseball contract Monday with the Cincinnati Reds.

Carlton, a shortstop on the Razorback baseball team, and a standout basketball player, will report to Class A Macon, Ga., in the South Atlantic League at the end of the school term.

Reds scout Ray Baker of Fort Smith, who signed the Sheridan product, said Carlton would receive "a substantial bonus."

Carlton batted .382 during the 1962 baseball season and last year became the second Razorback basketball player to score more than 1,000 points during a three-year career.

Field of 97 at Hot Springs Open

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Hot Springs Open Invitational Golf Tournament opens Thursday with 97 pros and amateurs qualified at the close of the entry list Monday.

Over 100 golfers entered the $20,000 PGA-affiliated tournament last year with Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., walking off with the $2,800 first place money.

Sanders carded a 273 total, 15 under par.

The remaining purse will be divided among the next 29 finishers.

Heading the list of entrants this year, besides Sanders, are Tommy Bolt, Julian Boros, Dr. Cary Middlecott, Marty Furgol, Jimmy Clark, Jim Ferrier, Al Geiberger, Bob Nichols and Jerry Steel-smith.

Don't Worry About Amount of Stamp

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—If you chance upon a pack of cigarettes with a five cent state tax stamp, don't worry.

Arkansas collected the full six cents tax.

Some five cent stamps are showing up around the state. It happened this way:

Until last year, Arkansas had what the Revenue Department called a border city tax on cigarettes. It applied in Fort Smith and Texarkana only. In those cities, Arkansas collected a five cent tax, equal to the tax in Texas and Oklahoma.

However, two years ago, Oklahoma increased its tax from five to seven cents and Texas went from five to eight cents last year.

So Arkansas now is collecting a statewide six cent tax.

The Revenue Department was caught with a supply of five cent border city stamps and it decided to issue them—charging six cents each—rather than throw them away. Revenue Department officials said the supply should be exhausted soon.

2 Weeks Could Bring Answer in Baseball

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The next two weeks may bring about answers to three very pertinent questions hovering over the baseball horizon:

1. Is the rest of the American League, after years of being spread-eagled by the New York Yankees, finally catching up to the practically perennial champions?

2. Are the Cleveland Indians, pennantless since 1954, really a threat?

3. Are the San Francisco Giants going to become the first National League runaway winner since the Dodgers, then in Brooklyn, waltzed to a pennant in 1955?

A couple of weeks ago, Gabe Paul, general manager of the Indians, boldly stated that the Yankees would be hard pressed to repeat as champions this year. Take on lightly was his assertion that other clubs, including his own, had built themselves up to the Yankees.

Today, Paul's assertions have more meaning than they did two weeks ago, because of (a) Cleveland's current position at the head of the league (b) the Indians' early dominance of the Yankees whom they've beaten five times in seven meetings and (c) the league standings which show only 4 1/2 games separating the first eight clubs.

There's no doubt that Gabe has revived the forlorn Indians of a year ago when they barely managed to squeeze into the first division, a whopping 30 1/2 games behind the winning Yankees.

In a house-cleaning job, he changed managers and replaced several of last year's regular, wild young, eager and speedy newcomers. The new manager, youthful Mel McGaha, besides establishing order and harmony, had fashioned a different club based on speed, pitching and defense.

Probably the biggest improvement has been in the club's bench, which has become one of the deepest and most maneuverable in the league. In the weekend series with the Yankees, McGaha platooned six outfielders and each contributed nobly in the club's three victories in four decisions.

In Sunday's double triumph, the second doubleheader sweep the Indians have accomplished over the Yankees in two weeks, the outfielders—Ty Cline, Chuck Essegian, Willie Kirkland, Willie Tasby and Don Dillard—collected 10 hits. Two of them were important pinch hits by Dillard.

An important factor in the Indians' showing this year against the Yankees, to whom Cleveland lost 14 of 18 last year, has been second baseman Jerry Kindall, acquired in a trade with the Cubs. As a defensive whiz, he has steadied the infield.

The Giants, combining a devastating batting attack with surprisingly strong pitching, threaten to upset the pattern that has produced a tight National League race in each of the last seven seasons.

The next two weeks may be the turning point. The Giants, with a four-game lead over their nearest rivals, will play 13 of their next 15 games at home. At the conclusion of a three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals starting tonight the Giants play Houston four times, Philadelphia and New York three each. The home stand will be interrupted by a two-game series at Los Angeles.

If the Giants widen their present margin appreciably, there may be no stopping them. Even with Willie Mays in a batting slump, the Giants have sent to the showers all but two of the 3 starters they've faced.

Monday was an off day in both leagues.

Number of school systems in the U. S. dropped from 108,579 in 1942 to 37,328 in 1962, largely due to consolidations.

President Says

White House spokesmen and legislative leaders declined comment afterward.

However, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said there were no commitments asked and none given.

Halleck described the situation in Southeast Asia as very difficult. Kennedy called in the legislative leaders as a U.S. Marine landing in Thailand appeared near.

A White House announcement explaining U.S. military moves into Thailand was expected later.

Kennedy was understood to have told the congressional chiefs that U.S. policy is still aimed primarily at bringing about a cease-fire and an independent, neutral government for Laos.

In advance of the morning bipartisan White House meeting, Kennedy was reported embarked on a two-pronged policy with main emphasis on a political solution to the Laos tangle—not the use of American armed forces.

Administration strategists found some reason for optimism for a peaceful outcome in late reports of a lapse in Laotian fighting and a renewed interest by Laotian factions in agreeing on a nationwide government.

A White House statement was expected later in the day outlining the reasons for halting Thailand, a U.S. ally neighboring Laos.

About 1,000 U.S. Army combat troops, already in Thailand for Southeast Asia Treaty Organization exercises, were reported Monday to be earmarked for deployment along the Thai-Laotian border.

Washington sources also said landing in Thailand of about one half of a 2,000-man Marine battle group from the U.S. 7th Fleet was imminent.

The U.S. aid is being extended under an agreement with Thailand "to act to meet the common danger" in case of Communist threat.

Authoritative sources said, however, that this does not mean reversal of the U.S. policy of promoting a Laotian settlement through a cease-fire and formation of an independent neutral government in the tiny Southeast Asian country.

The hurriedly called White House session displaced Kennedy's usual weekly meeting with congressional Democratic chiefs. Invited to the special conference were Democratic and Republican leaders of both houses.

These late reports were found by U.S. policymakers to be signs of hope for a peaceful outcome to the Laotian crisis:

1. The fighting that started with Red seizure of the Lao government stronghold of Nam Tha last week has all but ceased. While this is not a cease-fire in the legal sense of returning government troops to positions, they have lost, the fighting now is practically ended.

2. Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, the Laotian supposed to head up a nationwide government if it is ever formed, has given word to U.S. diplomats that he will end his lengthy Paris vacation and return home for negotiations on forming a coalition government. Phoumi Nosavan, strongman of the Royal Laotian regime who is now in Taiwan, also has indicated he will return to negotiate.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who saw American Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Sunday, is reported to have given no assurance that the Soviets will press the Laotian rebels to maintain a cease-fire. Khrushchev was said to be still professing a desire for a neutral government for Laos.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Thailand tonight invited the U.S. Marines waiting on its doorstep to enter the country and help defend its frontiers against pro-Communist forces in nearby Laos.

President Kennedy in Washington immediately gave orders for the Marines to begin landing.

About 1,800 Marines are expected to come ashore at dawn Thursday.

Premier Marshal Sarit Thanarat announced the decision in a broadcast to the nation after making a helicopter flight to the southern city of Chachengsao where a U.S. naval task force is waiting off the naval base of Sa-teeep with the Marines aboard.

The Marine force will back up 1,000 U.S. combat troops already here for Southeast Asia Treaty Organization exercises.

Pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces, stiffened by Communist North Vietnamese battalions, captured Nam Tha, a provincial capital, 12 days ago and swiftly swept over all northwest Laos.

About 3,000 Laotian soldiers fled into Thailand from Houei Sai, a Laotian town just across the Mekong River.

Renegade Husband
Questions 'Pound of Cure'

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: If, as you often say, one can't expect a no-good husband to reform, what do you propose to do with men like me? While you are answering the question, how about an ounce of prevention instead of your bitter-sweet pound of cure, or non-cure?

It is easy enough to warn wives that wastrels such as I will not change and it may well be so. However, once we acquire bad habits like wife-beating, such practices cannot easily be shaken off. This being the case, isn't it up to your normal people to provide the basis for a society which will cease to produce these erratic characters?

When a husband-on-the-rampage threatens his wife with death or clubbing, you blandly advise her not to be bluffed by hubby's threats. "Cultivate your backbone," you advise, "and make a peaceful life for your children and self." But how about hubby? Are you consigning him to the limbo? This is written in all seriousness. —Wife-Beater

Dear Wife-Beater: I'm doing all I can to create a public opinion which won't stand for such abuses. I am also trying to inspire people to be their best selves. To a husband with an ungovernable temper, I say, "Grow up. Treat your wife as a human being, not a chattel."

"Know yourself. Find out where your insecurity lies. Is it rooted in sex or is it simply an urge to show who's boss in your family? Once you determine the cause, be man enough to admit you are wrong." Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on "Marital Harmony."

Dear Helen: What can you do with a mother who picks a husband for you? I am 16 and old enough to have a pretty clean concept of the kind of boy I intend to marry. There was a braggart from Chicago who did nothing but talk about himself and how good-looking he was—far superior to any of our local boys. My mother thinks he's just about perfect.

When he comes to the front door I run out the back. Thank goodness, he went to the West Coast with the idea of finding a job there. Mother says, "Don't worry, he'll be back for you." As if I'd ever worry about that swell-head!

After he left I met a really nice kid, a boy who has nothing but is going places, who works hard, has ambition and isn't ashamed to take any job as long as he can pay his way and keep his goal—buying a filling station—in sight.

Mother says he's not good enough for me. I could go any place with that stuffed shirt she thinks so much of, but nowhere with the boy who is everything to me. Dad understands but Mom wears the pants in this house. —Lost Hope

Dear Lost: Parents who can't agree upon the rearing of children are in for trouble and so is their family. If you value your home life, don't widen the rift between your father and mother by pitting one against the other. They've provided you with love, shelter and education for 16 years. Help them over this rough spot in their marriage. Whether or not you agree with your mother, meet her halfway by dating several boys instead of concentrating upon one. As you mature your sense of values change. The boy you're crazy about now may be one you would give house room to once you're adult in mind, as well as body.

Dear Helen: I love a deeply religious girl. Though not a heretic, I take life as it comes and get what fun I can along the way. But when I suggest dancing or going to a show, my girl turns me down, saying the worldly life is not for her. Naturally I'm hurt. Still she insists that she Clellan said Monday. The investigators—subcommittee counsel Donald O'Donnell and Paul E. Kamerick—also are expected to brief McClellan on reports of other investigators trying to spade up evidence in Texas on Estes' wheeling and dealing and any profitable connections he may have had with government officials.

Meanwhile, Republicans in the Senate and House peppered the Agriculture Department and its chief with more stinging words.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., called for Freeman's resignation in a Senate speech Monday. Allott also said the White House had maintained a "strange silence" about alleged influence deals linking Estes with Agriculture Department officials.

He and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged that possibly criminal reprisal had been taken against people at the Agriculture Department who wanted to disclose or investigate facts about Estes' deals.

Williams said a woman secretary in the department had been "railroaded" into a mental institution here for "refusing to cooperate in covering up corruption" in the department. Freeman's office promptly issued a statement disputing this and said the department regretted that the medical problems of an employee had been made into a political controversy.

Allott said the woman, Miss Mary Kimbrough Jones, 51, was "dragged off screaming" and held for 12 days at an institution, then found to be mentally sound.

He and Williams both questioned whether law had been violated because, they said, she had no chance to talk to her own doctor or lawyer, there was no reason to believe she might need mental care and she was found to be sane.

Williams said Dr. Lee K. Buchanan, the Agriculture Department doctor who sent her to the institution, had not been available since.

Miss Jones was secretary to N. Battle Hales, an Agriculture Department official whom Williams said was shifted to an insignificant job and stripped of access to files for demanding an FBI investigation of Estes' dealings. Williams said Hales himself was questioned by the FBI instead, and that this marked the start of what he termed the harassment of Miss Jones for being loyal to Hales.

Hales, in a news conference two weeks ago, argued that Estes had received favored treatment at the agency. His superiors denied that this was true.

Weir Files Answer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Embattled rice farmer James Weir of Dermott filed an answer Monday to the latest federal suit seeking a penalty against him for overplanting his crop. As before, Weir's answer contends governmental acreage controls are unconstitutional. The present suit seeks $25,981 because Weir overplanted by 215 acres his 1961 rice allotment.

OUR FORD FAIRLANE IS FAR OUT FRONT IN! A CLASS BY ITSELF!

compare CHEVROLET

FAIRLANE GETS THE BEST OF THE BIG ONES!

■ Our new-size Ford Fairlane is a whole foot shorter on the outside than Chevrolet—far easier to handle and park. ■ Yet Fairlane inside gives you nearly 2 inches more effective front leg room, exactly the same effective front head room, and practically the same trunk space! ■ All with money-saving twice-a-year maintenance, featuring 6,000-mile oil changes*, self-adjusting brakes, 30,000-mile major lubrication, 2-year engine coolant-antifreeze. ■ Plus greater fuel economy, and solid, quiet-riding single-unit construction! ■ And Fairlane prices start at $170 less!

*After first 1,000-mile change

Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices for Fairlane and Chevrolet 2-door sedans.

compare CHEVY II

FAIRLANE GETS THE BEST OF THE COMPACTS!

■ The only similarity between our Fairlane and the Chevy II is in easy parking and the kind of economy each delivers. ■ Fairlane is nearly 15 inches longer, and styled accordingly. ■ It's 5 1/2 inches longer in wheelbase, for a smoother ride. ■ It gives you 3 inches more effective front leg room, 3 1/2 cubic feet more trunk space, almost 400 pounds more steel and muscle. ■ It gives you big-car performance—even V-8 power for just a bit extra. ■ Plus solid one-piece construction, and twice-a-year maintenance, too.

550-Unit Gun, Knife, and Sword Collection of B. W. Edwards on Exhibit at Washington

— Hope Star photos

OLD WASHINGTON STATE BANK BUILDING HOUSES COLLECTION

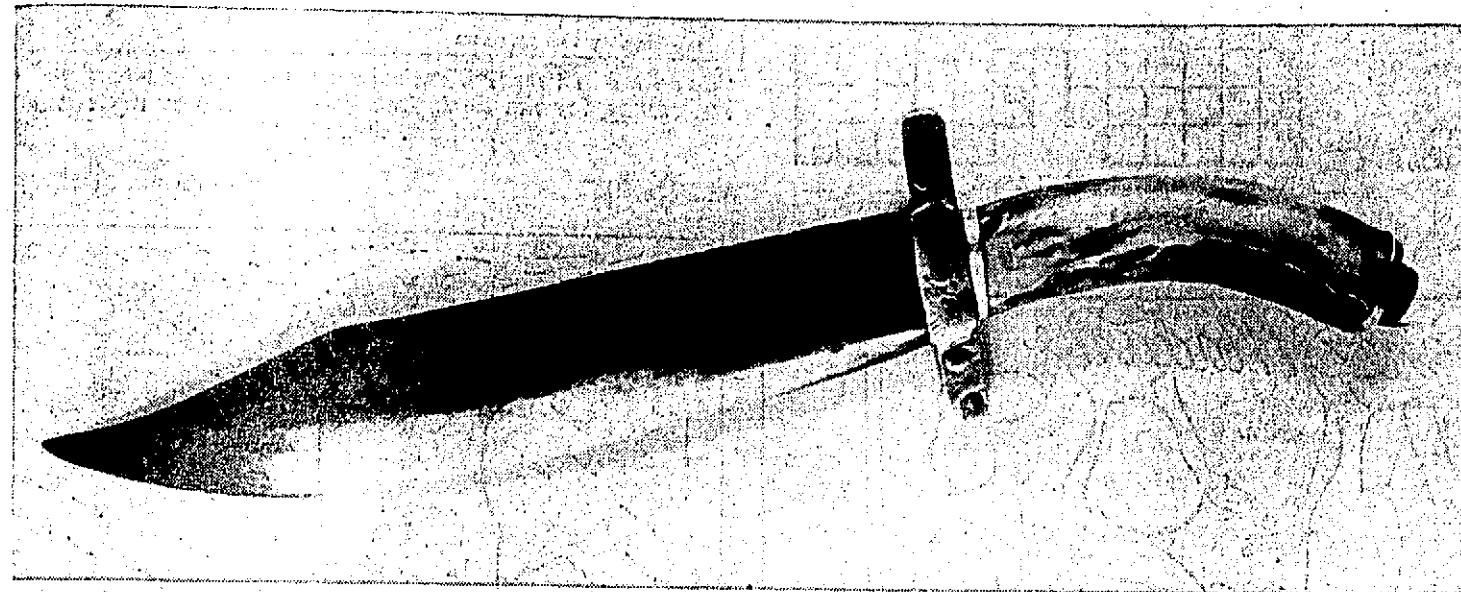

The best of the famed guns-and-weapons collection of B. W. Edwards of Hope was put on exhibition Sunday, May 13, in its own armory at Washington by the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation, as shown by these pictures made Monday at the armory by The Editor, accompanied by Mr. Edwards.

There are 550 units in the collection of guns, pistols and revolvers, swords and knives. The guns range from matchlocks, 200 years old; and flintlocks, 150 years old, to cap-and-ball rifles, shotguns, and pistols, and early cartridge guns.

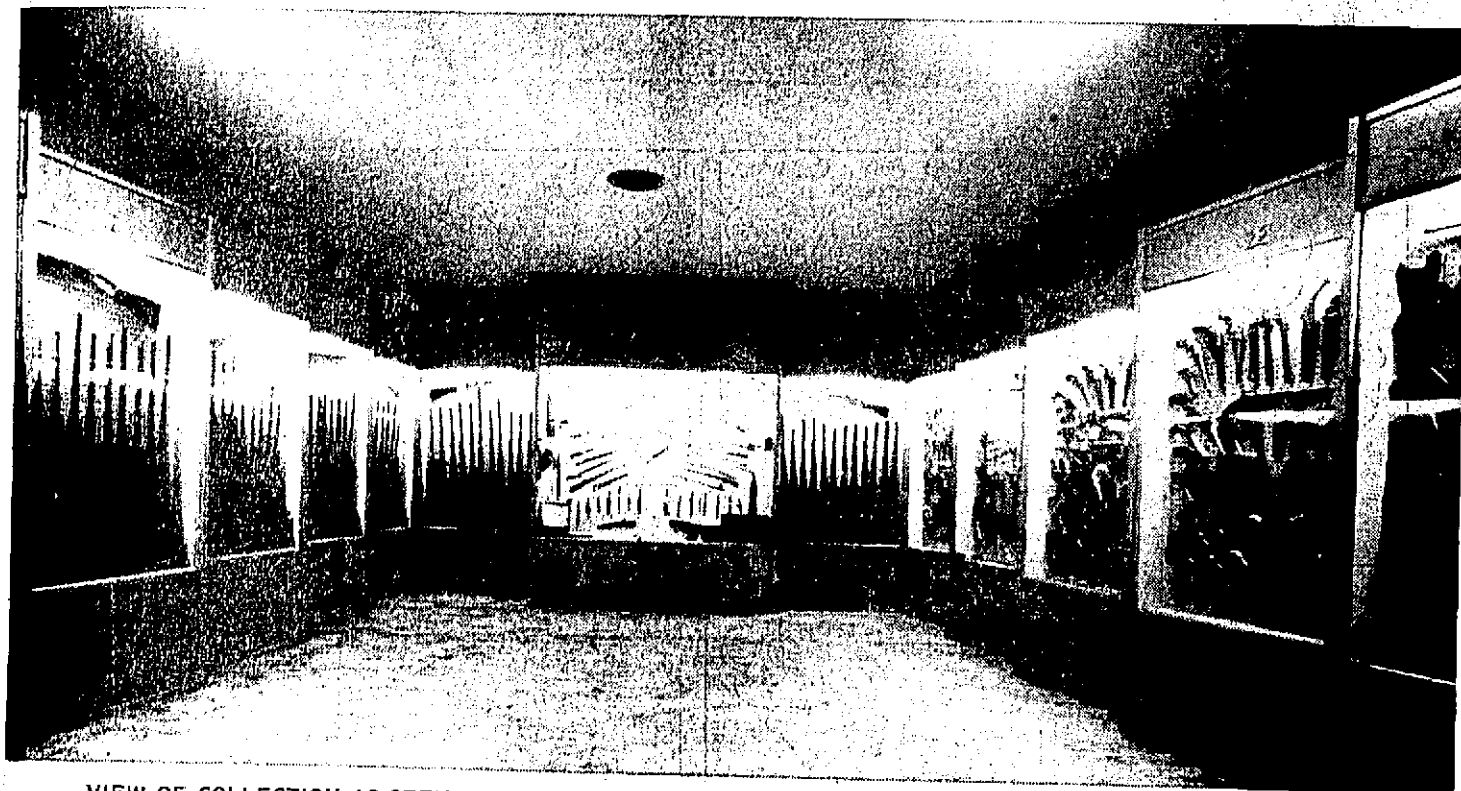

In the collection is a locally hand-forged Bowie Knife, which was the pattern for The Star's new masthead introduced a couple of years ago. The last authentic James Black-forged Bowie Knife was stolen from the Alamo in San Antonio in 1936. But an authentic James Black kitchen knife is owned locally by Mrs. Steve Carrigan, Jr.

The collection has been leased by Mr. Edwards to the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation, which will announce public exhibition hours at a later date. The Foundation purchased the old Washington State Bank Building, and it was remodeled with funds donated by Albert S. Sims of Albuquerque, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spencer of Hope, and Mr. and Mrs. William R. King of Memphis, and others.

Mrs. Georgia Haynes, executive director of the Foundation, announced that Mr. and Mrs. King, who donated the money to restore the Washington Tavern, are arriving from Memphis today and will stay in an apartment in the Tavern during visit to their native Washington.

TYPICAL BOWIE KNIFE OF LOCAL CRAFTING IS IN COLLECTION.
